Well the Masters kicked off their year with the Tussle on the Terrace. The traditional North of the River (NOR) verses the South of the River (SOR) ended in a DRAW!

Season 1 of the Friday Night Masters has also commenced. If you would like to play it isn't too late. Give Phil a call on 0412 778 345.

The first WA Junior Event for 2017 was played at the Hilton courts. The Hilton Exploder attracted 47 juniors keen to kick start their 2017 season.

A number of Junior Awards have been decided for 2016. Jade Woods, Will Curtis and Greg Chan scooped the pool. Congratulations to you all.

The Busselton Junior Open will NOT be played on the 1st of April. This is not an early April Fools Day joke!

A revised poster is currently being produced.

So the first event for the Southern Grand Prix Series will be the Katanning Junior Champs on Saturday 20th May 2017.

This event is also an Australian Junior Squash Tour Bronze event.

Isabella French

Firstly, thank you to Isabella French and her family for sharing her story with the squash public. It is a journey of personal pain, rehabilitation and ultimately, success.

One can only admire the courage of Isabella to embrace her situation, do the painstaking work to rebuild and get back to what she loves ... playing squash. She was 13 when her world came crashing down.

Isabella was training well and getting ready to compete in a Mike Cornish led trip to compete in tournaments in Japan and Penang in August 2016. Her Mum Leanne and Dad Nigel had even booked the flights to go, on what was going to be the biggest adventure of her life.

As part of the build up to traveling overseas Isabella was playing in the Kalgoorlie Golden Open when she began complaining that her back was sore.

At the time it didn't seem to be a major factor and later that month she competed in the Grays Squash Bunbury Junior Classic. Even though she did well winning her Division, Isabella's back was beginning to really hurt.

Leanne made an appointment to see a sports doctor in their home town of Bunbury. An MRI was requested straight away. The MRI revealed Isabella had a L4/L5 central disc prolapsed which needed rest to recover from.

Her hopes of playing in the WA Junior State titles in July were immediately dashed but there was still hope she could recover in time for the Japan and Penang trip. At that early stage of diagnosis, Isabella was expecting that she would be definitely be back for the Nationals in September.

Her Doctor recommended Bella work with a local physiotherapist who works with young athletes. Unfortunately, the physio couldn't see her until mid July.

Isabella withdrew from the State Championships with a medical certificate but based on her results up to the 18th June she was still selected to play for WA.

On a family trip to Adelaide in early July it was decided to see a specialist

Welcome back Isabella French

physiotherapist while they were there. The specialist had a lot of experience and had done a lot of research with complex problems, including working with young athletes. She had even played competitive squash in her younger days! The family left the appointment feeling very confident that Bella would return to good health quickly and be able to play in Japan.

Unfortunately, the follow up letter from the specialist, once she had more time to consider and assess all her notes, painted a picture more serious than what the family initially thought requiring a much longer recovery time.

Here are two snippets from her letter:

“Isabella is tall, meaning she has long levers, putting more stress on her back than if she were shorter. The lack of good hip and core control is partly a product of her age and her height she must have grown fast at some stage relatively recently where it is very common for adolescents to go through a period of reduced coordination and control while their brain and nervous system adjusts to the increased height.

My concern is that if she were to go and to play through the full intensity of an International tournament, she may actually do herself more harm, thus putting her chances of reaching her full potential as a senior player at risk”.

Isabella's world was caving in. Japan and Penang were now out of the question. She had to accept that she would have to spend time managing her pain and rehabilitating herself. In short, she wouldn't be able to return to the court until she could move without pain.

She began working with her local physio from mid July. Once Bella progressed to a point where she had more control over her muscles and core, the consultations turned into two functional Pilates classes per week.

Her physio has since made the comment that squash is most likely not the cause of Isabella's injury, but the rapid growth spurts that Isabella's body seems to produce. In other words, the bones in Bella's body kept outgrowing the muscle.

Naturally Bella kept playing and training while she was growing, until eventually her body said enough, “I can't keep up with what you're asking of me without waiting for the muscles to catch up and get stronger”. Bella has had multiple growth spurts since June 2016.

Isabella made a tentative return to the court in late August early September but she still experienced some tenderness in the lower back.

The following week, whilst at school Isabella's back went into spasms again and she felt extreme pain. Following medical advice, the decision was made to withdraw Isabella from the National Championships.

Isabella continued to work with her physio and at home on strengthening all her core, back, leg and shoulder muscles. The recovery this time was much quicker and Isabella made the decision to compete in Country Week for Bunbury in late September/October. It was a good competition to see how her back went, without any pressure of having to win.

Following Country Week, Bella played squash once a week but did not participate in any consistent formal training. With the offer of irresistible flight specials to Darwin a decision was made to book for the AJO in January as Bella felt confident, by then, she would be playing again and wanted to compete to see how she went.

In mid November her physio gave her the all clear to begin training again and by mid December Bella was back on court in full training with Mike Cornish plus an additional 3-4 times per week on court and feeling strong.

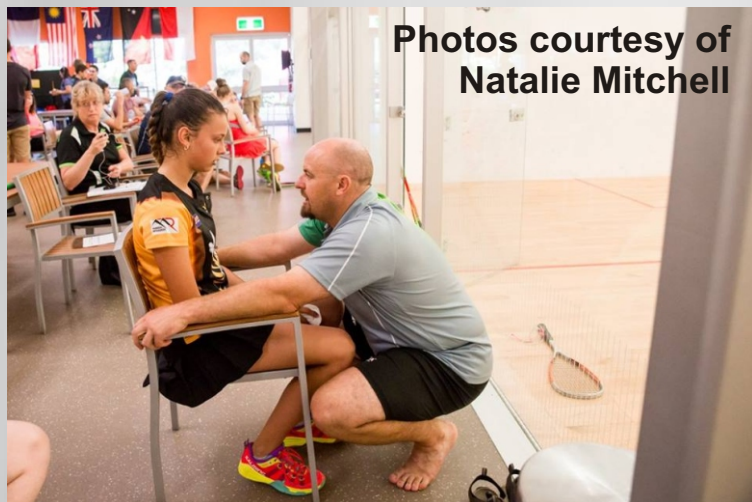

Isabella competed at the AJO in Darwin. Her goal was to win her first round and finish the tournament injury free. She said anything after that would be a bonus. She was quite shocked and delighted to find herself in a semi-final, having never made it past the first round before.

Unfortunately, Bella wasn't able to secure a finals spot this time, but she did win the Playoff for 3rd place! Isabella was back and on the podium again and feeling on top of the world. She had finished 3rd in a National event in Under 15 girls as a 13 year old. It was just her second AJO. The result has sown a seed ...

Bella turned 14 on 3rd February and currently stands at 175cm!

Isabella would like to thank her Physio Therese Reeves for getting her back on court and her ongoing support.

2016 JUNIOR AWARDS

Junior of the Year: Jade Woods

Jade is a quite person who has taken herself out of her comfort zone to run the junior squash club at Kalgoorlie this year, showing her commitment to the juniors in her area and for WA Squash.

Jade always shows good sportsmanship both on and off the court and always tries to lead by example.

She is a very valuable member of the Eastern Goldfields Squash Association and was the recipient of the Eastern Goldfields Sports Star of the Year award.

To add to her collection she has been awarded the 2016 WA Squash Junior Year award.

Junior Players of the Year: Will Curtis and Greg Chan

This year saw outstanding achievements from two players

Will Curtis: (also won this award in 2014 and 2015). Continued his commitment to the sport entering as many tournaments as possible and traveling interstate to improve his squash. He won the U17 Oceania Squash Championships at the beginning of the year. His perseverance and commitment to training was rewarded in 2016 by his selection in the 2016 Australian U19 Boys team that traveled to Poland in August where he won 3 out of his four matches, Australia finishing 7th. He has since been awarded a scholarship to Avon Old Farms School in Connecticut, USA.

Greg Chan: Started the year winning the U13 Australian Junior Open stopping fellow West Aussies Oscar Curtis and Eric Gray from winning. He also won the U13 State Championships in July and also received the Chas Renner Medal for the best and fairest at the event. In August he won the U13s at the Hong Kong Junior Open. In September he was runner up in the U13 Japan and Borneo Junior Open events. He then came back to Australia to win his third Australian Junior Championship and was a member of the U13 WA Team that took the team's title.

Catching Up WITH THE Champ

Kiara Rogers

Girls U17
AJO Champ

Kiara Rogers began her 2017 campaign at the Australian Junior Open in Darwin.

"I got back into training after Christmas and worked hard on areas that needed to be brushed up on, so I was ready to play the best matches I could. I was trying to achieve a personal best".

Her first match was against Carley Norris from Victoria which she won comfortably in straight. Her second match was against Lauren Stieler from Queensland which again she won comfortably in three.

Into the semi-finals, #2 seed Kiara had to play her WA teammate and #3 seed Jade Woods. The match had it all - it was tense, tough and tight. Kiara got home 11-13, 12-10, 11-7, 13-11 in 29 minutes.

"I was now in a position I had never been in before or experienced - the big Grand Final for a National title! I had a few nerves but I was excited! I was playing one of my close friends, #4 seed Olivia Lindsey also from WA who had knocked out the #1 seed Sarah Quinlivan".

"I started a bit rusty in the first game going down narrowly 9-11, but I then came back firing in the second game and then again in the next 2 games to win in 4".

Kiara won her first National title 9-11, 11-4, 11-6, 11-5 in 28 minutes.

"I had never experienced winning a title this big, so I didn't know what to feel once we had finished but I was now the 2017 AJO U17 champion. Truly an amazing feeling."

"I'm very honored and extremely happy that I had this opportunity, and to have my my Mum and Dad there watching me and Dad coaching me was very special. A huge Thank You to them and everyone else who supported and helped me on this journey. I'm now looking forward to a great year of squash."

47 Juniors participated in the Hilton Exploder. Four players were seeded in Division 1. Eight players were then seeded in Division 2 to 5. A Qualifying Round was played in each of those Divisions with the 4 winners being elevated to the higher division and the 4 losers remained in their initial Division to meet the 4 winners from the Division below.

Greg Chan was the Division 1 winner. It was a BIG day for Greg because he was also the recipient of the WA Squash Junior Player of the Year Award.

Quaide Kieser (Division 4) and Augustus Davis (BUN) upset their more fancied rivals to the finals of their respective Divisions.

The players will also compete in the Oceania Junior Championships beforehand.

In sensational late news Greg Chan has withdrawn from the team as a result of breaking his finger. One of our best young prospects actually played with and won the Hilton Exploder Premier Division not knowing his finger was actually broken! It even looks like it was broken at the AJO in January where Chan finished runner up in the Boys U15 Championship.

TUSSLE on the TERRACE

Story by Janis Haswell

Once again, the Tussle was an energetic, fun, teams event with games played in the true Masters spirit, and with the surprising result of a draw between the NOR and SOR teams ... again!

The turnout was great with just under 60 entrants; a big thanks to everyone who participated, it made all the efforts of the committee members worthwhile.

A huge thanks to the committee for donating their time to successfully bring the event together again with lots of food, lots of festivity and lots of healthy rivalry ... what more could a squashy ask for?

What would make it even better is if everyone entered the tournament earlier when it appears in the first WAMS newsletter of the new year.

As it is, only a handful of members do this leaving the committee to personally contact people to enter, which then makes it difficult to have the draw done in time and to arrange the courts, catering and all the other fiddly logistics that are part of running a tournament.

As with all tournaments, early entry by players means more time to consider match-ups, and an earlier release of the draw. Ideas of how we could better reach members to enter early and get this to happen would be most welcome.

All in all though, I think everyone would agree that the Tussle is a great way to kick off the Masters Calendar, and to reinforce the wonderful thing that is the WA Masters family.
