WELCOME

January focussed heavily on Juniors with 3 events conducted in Queensland to launch the 2018 competition year.

The Oceania Junior Championships (Redcliffe PCYC), the Trans Tasman Test Series (Redcliffe PCYC) and the Australian Junior Open (Nerang) were decided with the Kiwis dominating the OJC and winning the Test Series. Australian athletes excelled at the AJO.

January was very hot and humid in South East Queensland. Many players didn't adjust quickly to the conditions but the champions did and one can only applaud their achievements.

I would just like to THANK Toni van der Kreek, Tony Sergo and Amy Davies for their wonderful photos. I hope this will encourage other Tournament Officials to seek out a photographer who will capture the memories of their events.

Squash Media has a facility to put all the photos from your event together to share with others. If you wish to get involved please contact me on the number below.

It was a relatively quiet month in terms of PSA action, however, Ryan Cuskelly excelled at the Tournament of Champions reaching the quarter finals,

The highlight of his performance was a sensational win over World Champion Mohamed Elshorbagy in the second round. The match went to five and took 90 minute to complete!

The Commonwealth Games are not far away now. Just over 2 months to go! Can't wait ...

Tournament of Champions Aussie Report

Stories by Sean Reuthe PSA

Australia's World No.19 Cameron Pilley bowed out of the 2018 J.P. Morgan Tournament of Champions after he lost out to former World No.1 James Willstrop on day one of the PSA World Series tournament taking place in New York's Grand Central Terminal.

The Yamba-born 35-year-old had never beaten Willstrop in any of their six meetings on the PSA World Tour and went a game down after a strong start from the Englishman.

Pilley finally found his range in the second game to go 9-6 up but he squandered the opportunity to draw level as Willstrop fought back to double his lead, while the third game was a procession as the Aussie No.2 fell to an 11-6, 11-9, 11-3 in 41 minutes.

"I love playing here, the Tour is strong and to beat Cameron here is really tough," said Willstrop. "I'm very happy. Every single event brings up either a new player or someone who is very good like Cameron, so I don't really look at the draw anymore because you know you've got to turn up and be ready and that's what I'm trying to do from the very beginning."

In the women's draw, former World No.6 Amanda Sobhy - who became the first American-born woman ever to reach the final of this tournament back in 2016 - capped her return from a 10-month injury absence with a 3-1 victory over 2007 World Champion Rachael Grinham.

Tournament of Champions Aussie Report

Defending women's champion Camille Serme narrowly avoided a shock second round defeat at the hands of Australian Donna Urquhart.

Serme had to call on all her fighting spirit to recover from a 2-1 deficit and come through a difficult clash with Urquhart in what was one of four women's second round matches to go the distance.

Serme became the first Frenchwoman ever to win the Tournament of Champions last year when she beat England's Laura Massaro in the final, but the number three seed was on the brink of an early elimination after conceding a one-game advantage following some superb squash from Urquhart.

The World No.16 outplayed Serme for large parts but the 28-year-old from Creteil showed her resilience as she came from 4-1 down in the fourth game to keep the match alive and, after taking the match into a crucial fifth, she maintained her composure to complete the victory.

"When you are losing, you start thinking about not playing again and being out of the tournament, so that's when you fight even more," said Serme.

"You think that you have nothing left to lose and that's when you relax a bit. At the end I got a lucky bounce and I just fought as hard as I could.

"I knew today would be tricky. Donna is in really good form and she put on a great match. She made me struggle a lot so I'm happy to be through."

Round 1:

Donna Urquhart (AUS) bt [11] Annie Au (HKG) 3-0: 11-6, 11-7, 5-1 ret.

Round 2:

[3] Camille Serme (FRA) bt Donna Urquhart (AUS) 3-2: 11-5, 6-11, 8-11, 11-6, 11-8 (53m)

Australian No.1 Cuskelly Defeats Former World No.3 to Secure TOC Second Round Berth

Story by Sean Reuthe PSA

Australian No.1 Ryan Cuskelly dispatched former World No.3 Omar Mosaad by a 3-1 scoreline to book his place in the second round of the 2018 J.P. Morgan Tournament of Champions, PSA World Series tournament held in New York's Grand Central Terminal.

The 30-year-old from Evans Head made blistering starts to the first three games and, while Mosaad managed to weather the storm in the opening game to go 1-0 up, he was unable to prevent the Australian from converting victories in games two and three.

The fourth game was a tight affair which saw both players trade points as momentum ebbed and flowed between the two of them, with Cuskelly eventually getting the better of the Egyptian to complete an 8-11, 11-8, 11-6, 11-9 victory which sees him through to round two, where he will face World Champion Mohamed ElShorbagy.

"I'm really happy, I've played Omar a few times and he's a good, solid player," said Cuskelly. "He cuts off the ball well and hits it very hard, so I was just trying to be aggressive and my coach [1991 World Champion Rodney Martin] changed the tactics a bit after the first game.

"If I didn't have Rod here I might have lost that because he told me to be a bit more aggressive and it paid off. I was rallying too much in the first game and then I started taking it in short and being more aggressive and it worked out in the end."

Cuskelly Shocks World Champion ElShorbagy on Day Four of TOC

Story by Sean Reuthe PSA

Australian Ryan Cuskelly pulled off one of the biggest wins of his career as he knocked World Champion Mohamed ElShorbagy out of the 2018 J.P. Morgan Tournament of Champions in a thrilling second round battle on day four of the PSA World Series tournament taking place inside New York's Grand Central Terminal.

Coming into the match ElShorbagy had won 28 of his past 30 matches on the PSA World Tour, including a run of 21 consecutive matches that saw him collect four titles on the trot, including December's World Championship, to close the gap on Gregory Gaultier atop the World Rankings.

But the Egyptian found himself out-muscled and out-hustled by Cuskelly in an absorbing encounter as the man who has called New York home for almost a decade produced one of his best ever displays throughout a match of the highest calibre, coming through a mammoth 90 minute encounter to cause a huge upset.

"That's probably the biggest win of my career," said Cuskelly afterwards.

"And winning here in New York in front of family and friends makes it extra special. My wife was trying to scout tickets for the day to get everyone in, so I'm really happy to pull the win off and I have to thank everyone for the great support I had today.

"I came in today with a game plan and tried to vary the pace and be aggressive when I could and just hang in there when he got on a roll. I managed to get some errors out of him and hit my winners as well so I'm really happy."

Momen Ends Cuskelly's Giant-Killing Run at TOC

Story by Sean Reuthe PSA

Farag will line up against countryman Tarek Momen in the last four after the World No.7 halted the giant-killing run of Australia's Ryan Cuskelly.

Cuskelly caused one of the shocks of the tournament when he ended World Champion Mohamed ElShorbagy's 21-match unbeaten run in the previous round, but it was a different story against Momen as he struggled to find the impeccable length he was hitting against the World No.2 in round two, while Momen hit an incredible 23 winners en route to a 3-0 victory.

"I'm very glad to get through tonight in three games because it was the last session and you don't get enough recovery from now on," said Momen, the husband of El Welily.

"I'm very happy with the way I played. Ryan is a very dangerous player, he took out the number two seed and the World Champion, it was an impressive win and I knew I had to have all my horses ready."

The Clive Pollard Report on the AJO

Australian Junior Open 2018 - Nerang Squash and Fitness Centre, Queensland

With just over 200 entries, the AJO began in a sweltering centre on Thursday 11 January. An enthusiastic group of juniors accompanied by perspiring parents, coaches and other spectators could gain little relief from the few fans within the viewing areas.

On court, it was clear that some players were finding the conditions difficult to cope with. The new, WSF-instigated triple-plate system was being used again (as in the Oceania Junior Championships the previous week). This did not prove popular, as many players, especially those who should have been playing for positions 5-8 in some draws, found they were not required to play further.

In the two Boys U11 pools of 4 and 5 players, only 3 matches extended beyond 3 games. The eventual winner was Joshua Rahul Raj (Malaysia) with Zane Wolpers (Qld) as runner-up. The Girls U11 was a single pool of 4 players, with Maja Maziuk (NSW) beating Haylee Besant (NSW) in the final, with a very tense 15-13 win in the 3rd.

The Boys U13 saw an 8-player qualification round leading into the last 16. Conor Loi (Malaysia) caused several upsets after qualifying, and reached the semi-finals, only finally losing to Noah Thomas (NZ) after a 47-min 5-set match. Tom Marshall (NZ) triumphed over his compatriot Noah in the 3-game final. The U13 Girls consisted of a 3- and a 4-player pool, with the eventual winner being Madison Lyon (Qld) and runner-up Swetha Sivakumar (Singapore).

In the Boys U15 draw, Brendan (BJ) MacDonald (Qld) reached the final after a 45-minute battle with WA's Oscar Curtis. BJ then played an excellent match in the final against the Oceania Champion of this age-group and AJO #1 seed, Gregory Chan (now resident in Malaysia), finally losing to Greg after 4 tough sets. The U15 Girls draw had a 16-player qualification leading into the last-16. No surprises here as the #1 seed, Vharshamithraa Dinesh (Malaysia) defeated the #2 seed from NZ, Natalie Sayes, in 3 games.

The Boys U17 draw had been revised to place Kerwin Teh (Malaysia) as #1 seed. This proved to be wise as, after the 24-player qualification round leading into the last-32, Teh came out on top, beating Elijah Thomas (NZ) in 4 games in the final. The U17 Girls draw brought #1 seed Winona-Jo Joyce (winner of the OJC last week) into the final against Queensland's own Mackenzie Sleep. This time, Mackenzie was able to reverse the result, winning in 4 games.

An 8-player qualification round led into the last-32 of the Boys U19 draw. Despite the appearance of several international players in this draw, it was four Australian boys who reached the last 4. In the semi-finals, Nicholas Calvert (Qld) defeated Jack Hudson (Tas) in 3 games, while Eugene Heng (NSW) beat Lachlan Cocksedge (Qld) also in 3. Eugene maintained his superiority over Nick from the previous week's OJC, this time prevailing in the final in 4 games.

With an 8-player qualification for the Girls U19 main draw, it seemed likely that the top 4 seeds would reach the semis unchallenged. However, Courtney Trail (NZ) upset her compatriot Zoe Dykzeul after a very tough 5-sets in the quarter-finals.

Both semi-finals were 3-0 victories, but only Alex Haydon (SA) held her seeding, while the #1 seed Anika Jackson (NZ) was unable to handle the skills of Sneha Sivakumar (Singapore). Sneha was too strong for Alex, winning the final also in 3 games.

Aussies Win Most Titles at AJO

The Aussies bounced back at the AJO capturing 5 titles to New Zealand's one. Malaysia won 3 and Singapore one.

NSW's Maja Maziuk and WA's Greg Chan won their respective events for the 2nd time in a week. Queenslanders Madison Lyon and Mackenzie Sleep won titles and NSW's Eugene Heng defended his U19 AJO title that he first won in Darwin last year.

2018 CALENDAR

We are trialing putting the Calendar and all tournament posters in a separate publication and updating it each month. That way we can keep both publications at a reasonable size. So look out for the first one this month. To save any confusion we will aim to publish the ASP Monthly and the ASP Calendar at the same time.
