Cuskelly Reaches Last 16 of PSA World Championships

A NEW DIRECTION

The ASP Newsletter has moved to a Quarterly Edition.

Sadly, there isn't sufficient "Aussie" action to warrant a monthly publication. However, when the activity increases the publication will move back to being published monthly.

Without sounding negative it is very hard to get excited about the Australian Squash Tour for 2019. Events are few and far between and there are too many CLOSED events. Some clubs/centres have simply not announced their event for 2019 ... please do so ASAP.

It is alarming from this perspective ... players will now be forced to go overseas to chase world ranking points and competition. It's now going to be an even slower climb up the ladder if you want to be a professional squash player based in Australia.

Taking out closed events which attract minimal PSA points, so far the calendar for men is offering just 9 events! There are 7 x C5, one C10 and a C20 event (congratulations to the organisers of the Squash Melbourne event who are now offering an event with prizemoney greater than the Australian Open).

For the women it is even worse 6 events! 4 x C5 and 2 x C10 events.

Besides sponsorship another impact on whether a promoter decides to run an event or not is the currency exchange. Prizemoney is given out in US Dollars. Currently, the Aussie Dollar is low in comparison to the USD so there is an increased financial risk for promoters. They either have to get more sponsorship or reduce what they offer or abandon offering an event completely.

C'mon Australia ... let's build a Tour of Significance!

I genuinely hope this situation improves, sooner rather than later.

Congratulations Ryan Cuskelly on reaching the final 16 at the PSA World Championships. A wonderful achievement.

Also, congratulations to Sarah Cardwell (Granite Open) and Rachael Grinham (Texas Open) ... both ladies reached the semi finals of their respective events.

JANUARY

Result - Men's Third Round: 2019 J.P. Morgan Tournament of Champions
Diego Elias (PER) bt Cameron Pilley (AUS) 3-1: 11-9, 11-8, 5-11, 11-7 (55m)

Australian's Cameron Pilley is out of the J.P. Morgan Tournament of Champions after falling to a 3-1 defeat against Peru's Diego Elias at New York's Grand Central Terminal earlier today. The pair were meeting for the first time since 2014, with Yamba-born Pilley winning on that occasion, and he proved to be a thorn in Elias's side once again as he hit some superb winners to put his opponent on edge. But Elias came through to win 11-9, 11-8, 5-11, 11-7, sending Pilley out at the last 32 stage for a second year in a row.

"He's playing better every tournament after his injury and I knew it was going to be a tough match because he won both of his matches 3-0, so he was really fresh," Elias said after the match. "I was trying to make the rallies longer. Sometimes, I was going too much to the front, but it wasn't working, so at the end I had to play some longer rallies. "He's been at the top of the game for so long and I've always admired him. It's a pleasure playing with him, I was trying to enjoy every point and I was having fun with him."

FEBRUARY

Results: 2018-2019 PSA World Championships presented by the Walter Family men's round two [14] Ryan Cuskelly (AUS) bt [L] Youssef Ibrahim (EGY) 3-2: 13-15, 11-9, 11-6, 8-11, 11-9 (84m)
[7] Paul Coll (NZL) bt Cameron Pilley (AUS) 3-0: 11-6, 11-9, 11-5 (48m)
[2] Nour El Sherbini (EGY) bt Christine Nunn (AUS) 3-0: 11-2, 11-4, 11-6 (24m)

Australia's World No.18 Ryan Cuskelly reached round three of the 2018-2019 PSA World Championships presented by the Walter Family in Chicago, while compatriots Cameron Pilley and Christine Nunn fell to defeats on day two. Cuskelly is now the last remaining Australian in the tournament after he overcame Egyptian qualifier Youssef Ibrahim in a gruelling five-game encounter.

The Australian was forced to come from behind against the 19-year-old Egyptian in a tight battle before claiming the win by an 13-15, 11-9, 11-6, 8-11, 11-9 in 84-minutes. He will now face Egypt's Marwan ElShorbagy for a place in the quarter-finals.

"It was tough," said the 31-year-old following his win.

"I have been watching his results and he has had some good ones against some top players, so I knew it would be a tough match.

"I had a chance in every game today, but he can be very skilful with his shots and I was lucky to come back in the fifth after being down 4-1.

"Union Station looks amazing; the court looks unbelievable and I'm sure it will be a great atmosphere."

Meanwhile, compatriot Pilley was unable to join Cuskelly in the last 16 after he fell to a straight-games defeat to New Zealand's World No.6 Paul Coll.

Christine Nunn

In the women's draw, Nunn's time in Chicago also came to a premature end at the hands of two-time World Champion Nour El Sherbini on the glass court inside Union Station.

FEBRUARY

Result: 2018-2019 PSA World Championships presented by the Walter Family men's round three [8] Marwan ElShorbagy (EGY) bt [14] Ryan Cuskelly (AUS) 3-1: 11-4, 11-7, 9-11, 11-7 (58m)

Australia's World No.18 Ryan Cuskelly saw his 2018-2019 PSA World Championships presented by the Walter Family campaign come to an end at the hands of Egypt's World No.8 Marwan ElShorbagy inside Chicago's Union Station. Cuskelly was the last Australian standing in the tournament, following the defeats of Cameron Pilley and Christine Nunn yesterday, however, Cuskelly was unable to make it any further in Chicago after losing out to a dominant ElShorbagy. The Egyptian reached the final of last season's tournament, narrowly losing out to older brother, Mohamed, in five-game and the World No.8 is hoping that he can go one better this year after putting in a controlled performance to reach the quarter-finals.

"I'm really happy with my performance today," said 25-year-old ElShorbagy.

"Even in the game I lost I thought I played pretty well, but all credit to Ryan, he dug in in that third game. I'm very happy with the way I came back in the fourth to win the match, it means a lot to me."

MARCH

Result - First Round: 2019 Citigold Wealth Management Canary Wharf Classic
Borja Golan (ESP) bt Cameron Pilley (AUS) 2-1: 11-8, 6-11, 11-8 (65m)

Yamba's Pilley Falls in Round One of Canary Wharf Classic Yamba's Cameron Pilley has been eliminated from the 2019 Citigold Canary Wharf Classic after a 2-1 defeat to Spain's Borja Golan at London's East Wintergarden earlier today. Golan, the World No.30, had won his last four encounters with Pilley on the PSA Tour and found his winning shots at the business end of the opening game to take it 11-8. Pilley recovered to level the scores in the second, and he looked poised to put Golan to the sword after taking a 6-3 lead in the third, but Golan dug into his mental reserves to stay in the rallies. He then showcased his impressive racket skills to close out an 11-8 triumph in the third to complete the win.

"I've known Cameron since we were juniors, we've been playing for 17 years, we're now both 36 and we're good friends," Golan said. "Best of three is even harder, you have to be alert to every ball, the pressure is even higher, the nerves are higher, but we play in front of such a good crowd, it's only the first round and it's full. "I think I just realised that I was playing too much to the front and I wasn't doing enough damage to Cameron. He was very accurate to the front, so I tried to put the ball into the back corners, tried to make it more physical and waited for his mistakes. He made a few more than me today and that made the difference in a few points."

MARCH

Results - Second Round: 2019 Citigold Wealth Management Canary Wharf Classic
[8] Ryan Cuskelly (AUS) bt James Willstrop (ENG) 2-1: 6-11, 11-5, 11-4 (42m)

The tournament's No.8 seed won the first match of day two, as Australia's Ryan Cuskelly overcame James Willstrop to reach the quarter finals of the Citigold Wealth Management Canary Wharf Classic. It did not look good for the Aussie after the first game, as Willstrop took the early lead. However, he bounced back to move past the former World No.1, who was taking part in his 650th match on the PSA World Tour.

However, Cuskelly came back and produced some much quicker squash to outpace Willstrop, and take the victory at East Wintergarden.

The Canary Wharf Classic is trialling a best-of-three games format for a second successive year and the Evans Head-born Cuskelly will face Tarek Momen in the quarter finals on Wednesday evening.

"The first game, you know, if you play at James' pace, he is just going to pick you off all day, so I was in that slow to medium pace and he was just too comfortable," Cuskelly said.

"Rob Owen [Cuskelly's coach] told me to step it up a bit and be a bit more aggressive and hit in front of the 'T'. That's what I did, and it was tiring, you know.

"I tried to just not let him set. When James sets on the ball, he is probably the best in the world. He can put the ball away, especially on the backhand. I have watched him so much that I think like I know where he is going to hit it, sometimes.

"[At those times] I just try to charge up behind him and whack the hell out of it. It is always good playing James. I love watching him play, so it was good to play well again.

"I have seen those [Willstrop's fakes] before as well. He has done it against Gawad a few times, and a few other guys. He is good at that, but I was lucky to read it today."

MARCH

Result - Quarter Final: Citigold Wealth Management Canary Wharf Classic
[3] Tarek Momen (EGY) bt [8] Ryan Cuskelly (AUS) 2-1: 8-11, 13-11, 11-5 (51m)

Ryan Cuskelly is out of the Citigold Wealth Management Canary Wharf Classic after losing in three games to World No.3 Tarek Momen and London's East Wintergarden.

The Evans Head-born star took the first game relatively easily, and then had match ball to secure a huge win in the second. However, the Egyptian came fighting back to win the match.

The Canary Wharf Classic is trialing a best-of-three games format for a second successive year. Momen won the second on the tie-break 13-11, before taking control in the third to secure a semi final berth. He spoke about how the Australian came flying out of the blocks.

"Ryan came out firing today. He was playing superbly well and I expected it because I had seen bits and pieces of his match with James," Momen said.

"I knew he would be aiming for too much attacking, and then if it goes in then I am going to be in trouble. It is kind of tough, backing up throughout the season. I have been having some really good results.

"However, it comes with the consequence that I am actually playing so many matches in every tournament. This is new territory for me, having to back up tournament after tournament.

"I am gaining a lot of experience and I was counting on my fighting spirit to get me through because today I was really behind. I was 1-0 and 6-3 down and I was not moving that well, which is something I always count on.

"When I don't have my best movement, I try to come up with anything to get through. I even lied to myself, telling myself that the score was something else. I was 6-3 down and I was telling myself it was 5-5 to keep myself going.

"Eventually, what got me through today was my sheer desire to win and I am very happy to get through. I had a rest day yesterday which I really made use of. It was very important. The best of three is helping in that regard, so I am happy to go only three games today, and hopefully I will get some good recovery for tomorrow."
