

SQUASH WA NEWSLETTER: DECEMBER 2023

Congratulations to everyone in WA who have contributed to helping Squash WA achive the title of Best State Association. That is a terrific acknowledgment that the State, as a whole, is active, growing and doing positive things for the betterment of all. If you look back through the SWAN you will see Squash WA is very active with many people contributing to its success.

Please however don't sit back and think the mountain has been climbed. There is so much more still to be done and improved at all levels and in all clubs.

BEHIND THE SCENES with Leigh Kaye

Congratulations to you, the squash community, for playing your part in Western Australia winning Squash Australia's Ted Barlow State of the Year award at their annual awards night on 25 November.

No matter how big or small your contribution, every last one of you should give yourselves a big pat on the back.

2023 has been full of achievements for squash in Western Australia. We have broken records, won multiple Squash Australia awards, finally been added to the Olympic Games' repertoire of sports, and will be hosting the Australian National Championships next year in June!

I'm well aware that 2023 has also been a tough slog; with thousands upon thousands of hours spent, from every corner of our squash community.

We could not have done this without the blood, sweat, and tears of:

- Serena, and more recently Roxy, in the office
- Our volunteers on the Board
- Our volunteer Pennant, League and Country Week committees
- Our volunteers on Club Committees
- Our officials and coaches
- Our tournament and initiative sponsors
- Our partners in DLGSCI and Healthway
- Our players your support has been nothing short of amazing.

To each and every one of you, I thank you from the very bottom of my heart. Reflecting on what we've collectively achieved in laying such a solid foundation during 2023 - I can't imagine what 2024 has in store for us!

I'm so proud to be part of Western Australia's phenomenal achievements and look forward to the continued growth of squash across the board.

I invite anyone who can assist in any capacity, to volunteer to assist Squash WA in our journey next year. For example, we are on the lookout for a minute-taker for the monthly Wednesday evening Board meetings - no experience necessary.

Lastly, while the office will be officially closed from Saturday 23 December through to Tuesday 2 January, I'm always available for a chat.

Merry Christmas to all those who celebrate it, have a wonderful break with your loved ones, and see you soon for a positively prosperous 2024!

The Squash Australia night of nights was held at the Grand Chancellor Hotel, Brisbane, on Saturday 25 November 2023. It was humbling to be in a room filled with so much passion, talent, and decades worth of experience and knowledge. Another year of kicking massive goals was celebrated, including Melbourne hosting the WSF World Junior Championships, and our incredible sport FINALLY being added to the Olympic Games portfolio.

At the west coast table sat Squash WA General Manager Leigh-Anne Kaye, Board Member Katy Scott, and Engagement Officer Serena Richardson. Joining them was national Referee and 2022 Squash WA Referee of the Year Luke Jamieson, and Mirrabooka Squash Club President Daniel Richardson. Filling the last three seats were Squash Australia representatives, Board Member Joanne Martin, Acting National Lead - Competitions & Events Leanna Davey, and National and World Squash Federation Referee Russell Weatherburn.

Quickly deemed 'The Winner's Table' once the presentations had commenced, there was much laughter and friendly banter, absolutely superb entrée, main and dessert offerings, and bottomless refreshments. So, who won the awards for WA on the night?!

Ted Barlow State/Territory of the Year: Western Australia

There's no other way of saying it - Western Australia has EXCELLED in the last 12 months, breaking national records for the highest rollout of MySquashAUS (revo). WA have increased their core and event funding for the association, secured a state facility, and been awarded substantial funds to update it. WA has had significant participation and input into national strategic and operational plans and working teams. This has allowed the state to align more with Squash Australia, positively influence change within the sport, and commence driving that change to better support participation within WA.

Paul Vear Administrator of the Year : Leigh-Anne Kaye

In her role as General Manager, Leigh is a pivotal force within the squash community. After working tirelessly as a volunteer and Board Member, she saw the opportunity to drive the strategic and operational changes to take squash into the modern age. With significant contributions from the past and present workforce, Leigh has increased core funding, secured a home for squash in WA with the purchase of a new state facility, coordinates the centre upgrades, and is working with the WA State government to finalise a case study for a new purpose built 12-court facility.

Leigh is also a key contributor to Squash Australia, sitting on multiple working teams and continues to develop and embed the Squash WA Strategic Plan. Leigh's unwavering passion and drive, paired with her significant achievements, are nothing short of extraordinary.

Accepting both the State and Administrator awards, Leigh modestly reflected ...

"Thank you to our clubs, our board and our amazing volunteer base who have all helped us achieve our goals and made all this possible. Without the support of Squash Australia, the staff in our office, our volunteers and our community, we would not be where we are now. Taking these awards back to WA just shows that the community's hard work is paying off and that we are the State of choice this year."

Club of the Year: Mirrabooka Squash Club

Mirrabooka Squash Club is home to successful participation programs introducing new members to the sport and increasing their member numbers. Working with the broader community, the club supports the development of players by targeting low participation groups and have seen a significant increase in female participation.

Their commitment has seen them successfully secure numerous grants in the past 18 months. They have worked in partnership with Squashworld's Kane and Simmo, to improve the clubs' facilities to continue to host large scale events.

Club President Daniel Richardson accepted the award on the night and acknowledged the immense contribution by the committee and small army of volunteers, past and present, who have all worked tirelessly to bring the club to where it is today. ...but it didn't stop there!

Unfortunately, not able to attend the event in person, other awards accepted by Leigh or Katy for WA achievements included:

Chris Robertson Junior Male Player of the Year: Oscar Curtis

Oscar exited his juniors journey this year, as one of the most successful Australian junior men in recent times. In September, Oscar won his third Under 19 Australian Junior Championship, a feat no other junior Australian male has achieved.

He would likely have won a fourth title if not for COVID interrupting his winning streak. Oscar's three Australian Junior Championships go with his three Australian Junior Open titles – an achievement also unmatched in the history of that event.

Squash Australia Awards

Keith Walker Coach Award: Tim Cowell

Tim Cowell is, without doubt, the driving force in Western Australia for junior participation. Reaching over 10,000 students each year through our unique Inflatable Mini Squash school incursion program, Tim has been instrumental in developing the sport in WA. Tim has trained over 20 new coaches in Western Australia to continue to drive squash participation.

Masters Player of the Year: Sue Hillier

Sue is a role model and mentor through her success and continued involvement in the sport. Sue has won three WSF World Masters titles, eight open titles in the Australian Masters Championships, and has represent Australia five times in the Trans-Tasman Test Series.

Squash Australia CEO Robert Donaghue closed off the evening with inspiring words,

There's no doubt that the squash community is standing a little prouder since the sport was named in the LA 2028 Olympic program and we now have a great opportunity to launch into 2024 and beyond. The Australian Open being staged in Sydney's Martin Place is going to place a spotlight on the sport, and the growth of our Squash Stars national participation program is having an impact at the grassroots level. It really is an exciting time for squash.

GREAT SOUTHERN WHEATBELT TEAMS

Thanks Ash Clarke. On November 17, 18 and 19 the Katanning Squash Club hosted the Annual Great Southern Wheatbelt Teams Championships.

The tournament had many sponsors with our Major sponsor being The Premier Mill Hotel.

With teams of three players, the tournament reached its capacity of 120 very early on. We ended up with 10 divisions of 4 teams! Matches were scheduled starting from Friday afternoon, through to Sunday lunch time.

Some great squash was played in good spirits over the weekend. With the recently upgraded CourtTech courts and the warm weather, the ball was pinging around making for some entertaining squash!

The Katanning Squash Club committee worked tirelessly to provide plenty of food over the weekend, with the kitchen open nearly all weekend. A 78kg pig was spit-roasted on the Saturday, and lamb chops were also going strong thanks to some help from local members.

A good number of players elected to camp in the free camping grounds set up right near the courts, with an open fire pit keeping everyone warm into the early hours! The Narrogin Squash Club provided a recovery breakfast for everyone on both Saturday and Sunday mornings.

Other fun features of the weekend included the Agwest VIP Tent for teams leading their division after the first 2 rounds, and the Battlerope challenge run by Ryan McGrath!

A special thanks to the two local acts performing over the weekend, The Winston Brothers Acoustic on Friday night, and Big Men Working on the Saturday night.

The event wrapped up at lunchtime on Sunday so everyone could get back home at a reasonable time, and reflect on the awesome weekend of squash and the camaraderie we all shared.

Congratulations goes to all division winners! For 2023, Division 1 was taken out by The Hilfiger Hoes (Jason Patmore, Cooper Kennedy and Michaela Pratt)

Thanks again to everyone who participated and made the special effort to visit our club!

GREAT SOUTHERN WHEATBELT TEAMS

We are delighted to introduce you to Miss November - The Geraldton Squash Rackets Association (GSRA), also known as Geraldton Squash Club! GSRA are based out of a stand-alone squash facility at 288 Eighth Street, Wonthella - an inner northern suburb of sunny Geraldton. From Perth you'd be looking at a 4.5 hour road trip with plenty to look at along the way!

GSRA host the annual Geraldton Open each year in May. Squash enthusiasts travel from all corners of the state to attend this tournament, to compete in divisions for junior and adults alike. The club sell their supercool merch, canteen staples such as toasties and bananas, and create a sensational atmosphere, ensuring players come back for more each year.

We asked the crew for a run-down of what a typical week looks like, and wow, what a fantastic selection of activities from this pro-active group of squashies:

"We have six courts for casual hire. Our club is open Monday to Thursday from 4pm-7pm and Saturday from 10am-2pm.

On Mondays our pennant players train from 5pm and social players can come down for a game with friends.

On Tuesday afternoons, we have four coaches who volunteer at the club to help our junior players develop skills to build up to competitive games and ready themselves for pennants.

After Juniors we offer reduced court hire for social squash players from 5.30pm, with an in-house social competition for any skill level to come along and try squash.

Thursday afternoon our Junior Pennant competition starts from 5pm; they play games and gain valuable experience in marking and refereeing.

At 6.30pm our Mixed Pennant Competition starts, where all levels are welcome, from beginners to experienced."

We KNOW that GSRA have been working hard on junior participation, approaching local schools, hosting open days, etc. Sounds like it's all paying off, and junior and adult participation is thriving! 1212
We then quizzed the team about who the MVPs of the club were. Always a tough question, they responded that there are "so many fabulous members who help around the club, our committee dedicate their time to ensuring the club runs smoothly. A huge shout out to our members who planned this year's Geraldton Open, in particular Jeremy Church and Geoff Watters. It consumed a lot of their time, and it was a huge success and is very much appreciated by the club and players who travelled to compete. It was a great weekend!

CLUB of the MONTH: Geraldton

And a big shout out to Sharon Laing who is always there to assist – a real stalwart of the club!"

A question much easier for ANY club to respond to then followed: What makes GSRA the best club in WA - what do you do or offer that other Clubs don't?

"We are a very social club, and are welcoming to new players who relocate to Geraldton, whether they stay for a few weeks or a few years. We have pennant players who travel from surrounding smaller country towns to join our Thursday night competition. We offer flexible game scheduling to FIFO members to ensure they can still participate around their work commitments. We are independently owned and operated and strive to give the best experience and value to our members."

Well, you can't argue with that. On a final note, we gave GSRA an opportunity to highlight what they're striving to achieve, and how YOU can get involved!

"We are looking to grow our membership and would love to see more females playing this great sport.

Please make sure you call in to say 'hi' and attend a coaching session to help you get started. If you're travelling through Geraldton, give us a call and join us for a game at the club!"

GSRA would also like to take this opportunity to give a shout out to their sensational sponsors!

JUNIOR TOURNAMENT TOUR: GSWT

Over the weekend of 17 to 19 November, the 2023 junior tournament tour finished off in Katanning for the Great Southern Wheatbelt Teams tournament.

Volunteers Serena and Michelle had an awesome weekend with nine of the kindest and funniest juniors in the metro area! They shared a huge AirBnB house which was roughly a five-minute drive away from the squash courts at Katanning Country Club. Special shout out to Richo for helping to transport everyone's luggage to and from Perth!

The juniors that came along for the adventure were: Mirrabooka's Hayden, Charlie and Josh; Marmion's Jono, Mathys, Laney and Jess; and Cambridge's Leonard.

The journey from Perth took a little over three hours, with not much time to spare at the AirBnB before most had to step on court for first round matches. When things wrapped up by around 10pm, the group headed back for a late night dinner of pasta and salad. There was not a peep throughout the house by around 2am after the juniors had finally wound down and got all the giggles out!

Saturday morning's healthy breakfast consisted of toast, cereal, yoghurt, fruit and juice. The group then hit the courts once again, armed with a bottomless esky of healthy snacks and fruit, for a full day of squash after getting very little sleep the night before.

That evening, Katanning Squash Club had organised a Tug O' War teams competition which a very large group of juniors ended up winning, dominating the reigning four-person team from Subiaco Kings/Next

JUNIOR TOURNAMENT TOUR: GSWT

Gen. Everyone had a laugh and a great time, whether competing or just spectating.

Saturday evening also saw a beautiful buffet dinner, and the talented Ash Clarke performing for us live.

On Sunday the kids played their final matches for the weekend before presentations commenced at around 2pm. All three teams came runner up in their respective divisions - a solid effort!

It was the first country tournament for little Leonard, who was also the youngest of the group. The older boys in particular, really took him under their wing and made him feel included. It comes as no surprise that Jess and Laney were total angels, offering to help the carers at every opportunity. The odd phone ban at the house also led to some hilarious conversations over games of Uno, and everyone chipping in to pay Mathys to eat a delightful concoction of 2-minute noodles and milo.

A couple of the juniors stated that Katanning had been the best Tournament Tour stop yet, and didn't want to leave!

Serena and Michelle both worked around the clock to make sure that "Team Tournament Tour" watched and supported each other at all times, to make sure they were cheered for and coached between games. On top of a slight lack of sleep, the kids walked away from the weekend with full bellies, and some incredible memories.

Serena and Michelle had a fabulous weekend as well, and while keen for the 2024 Tournament Tour, are calling for an additional parent/volunteer to join us for each tour stop, to see what we do, and how fun and easy it is! If you or someone you know might be interested, please contact the office.

If your junior is interested in having the best weekend ever under the supervision of experienced, fun carers, then reach out to the office. The 2024 stops will include:

- 1. South West Open in Bunbury (22-24 March)
- 2. Golden Open in Kalgoorlie (31 May-2 June) travelling via the Prospector train!
- 3. Leschenault Classic Teams (23-25 August), and
- 4. Great Southern Wheatbelt Teams in Narrogin (15-17 November)

Spots are strictly limited to 10 juniors per tour stop!

On a final note, any form of sponsorship is very warmly welcome, and any amount helps. To give an idea:

- $100 would cover fuel costs.
- $250 would cover the food bill for the weekend.
- $500 would cover minivan hire so 10 juniors can travel together with two carers, with enough room for everyone's luggage.
- $1,200 would cover most of the accommodation costs.

PENNANT: Spring State Grade

Thanks Heddwyn Brahma. Thanks again to everyone for a great season, the league was very competitive, and I hope that everyone enjoyed themselves. My aim is to make State Grade better each season so I'm wishing the players a great Christmas break and looking forward to next year when we kick off on the 29 February 2024!

In total there were 150 votes during the regular season which means 85% of people participated in the voting. In the final round we had 75% of players cast their nominations.

Most Valuable Player - Aedan Martin

In the end it was extremely close between Eric Gray and Aedan
Martin. Eric Gray finished with 49 points in the poll and Aedan Martin with 51 points, making Aedan the Spring 2023 MVP and winner of the $200 cash prize!

State Challengers Final Craig Jones

If anyone is curious about how the final voting is tallied up, if you nominate a player as #1 they would get 5 points, #2 - 4points, #3 - 3 points ...

The State Challengers had a big 4 setter final between the #1 seed Christiaan Haseldonckx and #3 Craig Jones. Despite Christiaan winning over Craig in a 5 setter the last time they faced each other, Craig came out stronger on the night to win the final. (7 - 11, 11 - 3, 11 - 7, 11 - 6) 26:14

The State Grade Final was incredibly close and just like last season, came down to a 5 setter to decide the victor. In the end the Belmont Bulls were able to take down the Blue Gum Sharks 2-1.

In the first match, Daniel Hartigan faced Jinseok Kim. Dan came out on fire in the first game and while Jin was able to bring it back and take the second, Hartigan stayed solid to take the match in 4. (2-11, 11-8, 3-11, 7-11) 31:38.

In the second match, Oscar Curtis versed Francois Vorster. The match was very exciting with both players going for a lot of attacking shots, but Oscar was able to absorb the pressure and although he was game ball down against Francois in the 3rd, he stayed very consistent to take the match in 3 which also solidified his flawless season of 24 - 0 games. (11-7, 11-6, 12-10) 20:34.

In the final match was myself and Eric Gray. Eric and I have a history of long 5 setters and the State Grade final was no exception. While Eric took the first game to warm up, he was quickly 2-1 against me and in the end it came down to a gruelling fitness match. I eventually scraped through the finish line in the 5th set. (11-4, 3-11, 8-11, 11-8, 11-8) 48:51.

I'd just like to say a big thank you to our opponents for some great matches.

Blue Gum are a very competitive team, but they are also great sportsmen who show a lot of respect to their opponents and the referees.

State Grade Final Belmont Bulls

I look forward to seeing everyone back next year!

Thanks Neil Butler.

Are you allowed to phone your coach during the break between games?

With modern technology using smart phones, smart watches, etc. an interesting question has been raised.

Are you allowed to phone your coach, to receive advice during the break between games, who happens to be in a hospital bed watching the match being streamed? Initial reaction might be 'why not'?

AFL coaches talk to their players during the game, and give them instructions by phone from the coaching box, remote from the players' dug-out.

Then comes the question that with the use of smart watches, players could receive instructions from the coach via text messages, email, or social media during the game.

So, do we not allow players to wear smart watches for the duration of the match, preventing them from being able to receive instruction from their coach, during the break between the games?

Rule 15.6.10 does state that "receiving coaching during play is unacceptable behaviour". The referee must penalise the player, and if necessary, stop play to do so.

Was the player receiving instructions or looking at his heart monitor? Interesting times ...

John plays a drop shot from the 'T'. Mary moves forward, brushes John on the way to the ball, and asks for a let. The Referee is satisfied that the interference to Mary was minimal, and she could have played the ball. What should the Referee's decision be?

- Yes let a)
- No let b)
- Stroke to Mary c)

COACHES CORNER with Tim Cowell

Thanks Tim Cowell.

Time for a change of tact for the Coaches Corner this month. I've spoken about the serve (and return) previously, but this time I'm touching on it from a group training perspective and how to make it a bit more interactive.

The serve is tough to teach in a group. It's static and it's easy for young group members to lose interest and drift off whilst someone else in the group is having their turn. So how can we change that? Here are a couple of suggestions to have a crack at, the next time you are trying to teach the serve in a group setting.

Before you get into the activities, remember that you can regress them for any age group. The demonstration photos are dealing with proper serving positions, however there is no reason why you can't shift everyone closer to the front wall for a younger player attempting it.

#1 - MOVEMENT

The serve is quite static, and often an overlooked aspect of group training is the movement back to the T. So, this challenge is set up as a race to challenge their movement. Set up a container of balls just in front of the T. Starting from the service box, a player must move to the T, (step past the centre line) retrieve their ball, get back to the service box to set up quickly to serve.

The challenge comes from both time completed and quality of serves (maybe a 2-second penalty for a fault serve). Players will have to work out the following to do this really well.

- How can I move efficiently to the T (likewise a match to cover your opponent's shot)?
- Where are my ideal foot positions, and can I get into them quickly?
- Can I control my swing well enough to be consistent 'under pressure'?

Engage the other players by getting them to catch the balls and potentially (if safe) replenish the container (which might add a stamina challenge to the routine).

#2 - DYNAMIC TARGET - 'Find the Gap'

Yep, I've been one of those 'whack a bucket in the back corner and lets all aim for it'. What this doesn't consider is that if that's all we practice, what happens when our opponent is standing in an ideal spot to cut it off? Why even bother looking to see where they are if it won't make a difference to our serve?

Start off by giving the extra players in the group 5 seconds to position themselves somewhere in the quarter the player is serving into. Coach calls freeze, the player quickly assesses where they are standing, and tries to serve the ball into the gaps. If they can hit a serve which bounces or is a dropped catch, they score a point. If the extras can catch it, they score a point. Every attempt, the players get a chance to change positions.

COACHES CORNER with Tim Cowell

What are we learning here;

- Mixing serve type, based on where opponent is standing
- Hand-eye/ball tracking skills from group members
- Court awareness from both it's no good if the team members are standing shoulder to shoulder.

An overlooked part of training for the young players is the simple form of trying to catch the serve. It promotes ball tracking skills, hand eye and keeps them engaged. It's a pet hate of mine, seeing kids sitting in the back corner twiddling thumbs when they could be more engaged and learning something.

#3 - Return of serve - use the outer court

I've mentioned it previously about the return of serve, not to have tunnel vision that it must be a straight drive every single time, because sometimes it simply isn't possible.

So (referring to the image) it's easy for a coach to set up some cones or half balls and create an inner and outer court. By aiming to land the ball in the outer court, the server must leave the T in order to hit it.

Regress this activity by moving closer to the front wall. Progress it by moving the cones closer to the side walls (more quality of shot) or by trying to hit more challenging and varied serves.

Trying to practice the serve on your own? Go through a mental image of your target spots - both front wall and corner, and try to hit them. A partner certainly helps to give a true reflection of if the serve works or not.

The serve and return is a mini rally within the full rally. If you are struggling with your service game, set out a plan as to what you are trying to achieve with both shots, then go and execute it. Having no plan with your serve and return, and wondering why you are struggling in that area ...

Next month I'll add in some of my go-to solo routines for players, which might be a great option to practice over summer if your regular hitting partner is away.

ENGAGEMENT IN KATANNING

Riding on the Great Southern Wheatbelt Team tournament in Katanning, coach and top WA player Remi Young travelled to the country town a few days earlier to deliver a range of activities for locals.

After the three-hour drive on the morning of Wednesday 15 November, Remi kicked things off delivering the Inflatable Mini Squash program at Braeside Primary School. The kids were really thrilled to have the inflatables at their school, with the majority never having given squash a go!

That evening, Remi ran a ladies training session at the squash courts, located within the recently (and beautifully!) renovated Katanning Country Club. Beginner and experienced players alike, came along to this session. Six of the attendees were playing for the very first time, yet in a little over two hours, they progressed from having little knowledge of the game to moving to the T after serving, getting their racquet up before every shot, and moving out of the way of their opponent. Many of the experienced players struggle to execute those three skills and learnt a lot as a result.

Remi shared, "it was a great experience to get new people involved - hopefully they'll be keen to keep going and improving."

The next day started at St. Patrick's Primary School, where again the kids were really excited to give squash a go. One young lady enjoyed it so much that she joined in on the Katanning Junior Program that very same day!

Eight juniors attended the open session that afternoon which Remi also delivered. "I put them through some basic drills and got them focussing on their technique and getting their racquet up, followed by a crowd favourite of "Squockey" (combination of squash and hockey) to finish off, which the kids always really enjoy. I was mostly on court with two of the beginner juniors, who really made progress with their serves and overall rallying."

"Overall it was great to get out of Perth and introduce squash to a different community. I would love to do something similar in different areas, and spread our great sport far and wide."

Such great work Remi, the sport is lucky to have you! Thank you.
