ALEXANDER & SAXBY WIN NORTH COAST OPEN

WELCOME

EDITORIAL

After two highly active months it was nice to get back to a degree of normality!

September still had its fair share of championships. The Masters all headed to Darwin for their Nationals and the Juniors headed to Sydney (Thornleigh) for the AJC. Congratulations to all the winners.

Wasn't it great to see the Pyramids back promoting squash. I even saw it make the ABC News site - very rare for squash!

The Champion was World #6 Karim Abdel Gawad. In a post match interview Gawad commented:

"At the beginning of the tournament my only aim was to win my first round and to get to play one match at the Al-Ahram Glass Court. So I am so happy to hold and raise the trophy now. It was only at the Championship Ball that it hit me, that I was about to win this tournament".

How refreshing!

NORTH COAST OPEN

With the PSA Open Championships wrapped up, the graded championship brought a buzz to the centre with players from five states taking part. The standard of squash was high and for many in the lower grades it was a real experience mixing with the professional ranks and taking in some great viewing and tips during the weekend.

Congratulations to Jacob Ford who outplayed all challengers in the State Grade with a thrilling win against experienced Andrew Pringle of the Redcliffe Club in Queensland.

Earlier Jacob had narrowly missed making it into the first round of the Men's PSA Open. He reached the final round of Qualification going down in three games to Joseph White to miss one of the four spots available in the Open Draw of 16.

The surprise player in the PSA Qualification draw and State Grade had to be Brad Harrison who produced some of his best efforts to challenge higher ranked player's. Brad played confidently and relaxed to make it through to the final play offs before going down in five tough games.

Members of the Coffs Club certainly enjoyed the competition stepping up to test many of the visitors and showed plenty of tenacity to take out a number of the prizes on offer.

Paul Ivanoff took out C Grade, with Nathan Tidey winning D Grade. In other events Kent Cheney won the A Grade Plate Final against Aaron Moulds of Dubbo. In B Grade Daniel Ralph defeated Jeff Iddles in five games to win the Plate event.

Tournament sponsors, Coffs Hotel, Subways, Tecnifibre, The Edge Real Estate, Pro-Align and Mike Blewitt Ford really ignited squash in both senior and junior ranks this week.

One of the most popular events during the lead up to the North Coast Open was the Junior Clinic conducted with many of the leading professional players giving their time to hit and pass on some tips to junior players.

Many of the visiting players helped out with the development programs at the centre as nearly 40 juniors took part in a development clinic on the opening day of competition. Among the players, Connor Sheen (ENG) took time to help our youngest members with Cooper Payne enjoying the hitting on court.
